SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

The Class of 1968 is the largest class to graduate from Jefferson as yet. This class certainly equals its record of quantity with an equal record of quality.

When we entered the building as eighth graders, we received the sternest initiation ever. Every day one of our classmates was dumped into the bushes. We were tyrannized, abused, and mistreated and couldn't wait until we became upperclassmen. And yet the year was a profitable one as we acquired by osmosis an inkling of what lay ahead.

In our Freshman year we showed signs of the greatness that was to come. Our basketball squad went undefeated and won the Allen County Freshman Tournament. The girls also received their chance to sharpen their athletic skills through the G.A.A. Initiation day saw the sorriest sight ever seen as the girls were plastered with lipstick, rouge, crayon, and what not. The class also made its formal social debut as the boys escorted the girls to the annual Y-Teen affair. However, all was not fun and games. Latin, Algebra, and Biology meant sweat, blood, and tears. Slavery had again made its appearance.

Our Sophomore year saw our class begin its three year dominance of athletics at Jefferson. Twenty-two members of our class lettered in football. The girls were now able to make fun of the boys when D-Club initiation rolled around. We became increasingly busy as time went by. Band, girls's glee, and choir took up an increasingly large amount of our time, to say nothing of the homework that was piled up on us. At the end of the year, we ordered our class rings. Graduation seemed to be an eternity away.

Our Junior year saw us begin our career as thespians. "People Are Funny," a three act comedy farce, was a tremendous success. We packed the auditorium. We also arranged the prom for the graduating seniors. "Fantasy in Fairyland" was the theme and although we thought we would never have it ready on time, we got it done. Everyone had a nice time. We were now on the threshold of our final year.

Our Senior year was the culmination of all our high school experiences. We had finally made it. We were now the big wheels of the student body. Our class play, "Great Caesar's Ghost," set all records for attendance. Our final days saw the race against time as we struggled to write our short stories, finish our practice sets, and hand in our Elementary Functions assignments. It was now our turn to be entertained at the prom.

As we approach Commencement, we look back on the time we spent in the halls of Jefferson High. Whether we like it or not, it has played an important role in our lives, and as we try to look in the future we know we won't be able to forget it.

FOOTBALL HIGHLIGHTS

The 1967 football season gave the Jefferson Wildcats a chance to display the great talent as a team. Sportsmanship and team work contributed to a winning season. The greatest victory of the season was the 14-12 win over state-ranked Bluffton in an action-packed game. The team's determination, hard work, and desire to win enabled them to end the season with a 6-2-1 record.

The 1968 Jefferson baseball team had its good times along with its bad times this year. At the close of the season things were starting to look promising, but then rain set in and cancelled two games. The team ended up with a 5-5 record. The experience the young players gained from this year's games is a forerunner of a better team to come.

JUNIOR PLAY

On the evenings of March 28 and 29, 1968, the Junior class proudly presented the three act comedy.

"It Happens Every Summer" was directed by Miss Mary Kuhlman and Student Directors Linda Ness and William Clinger. The play was a great success.

Every year a famous magazine sponsors a guest editor contest. The winners get a trip to New York to spend a month as guest editors, learning how to put together a fashion magazine. The play is based on this real life situation. The contest winners descend upon the office of Debutante Magazine and cause much excitement there. The regular staff, headed by Lucy Jennings Woodruff, has its problems with the "Sub-Deb" editors, especially when romance appears on the scene. This combination of situations is bound to explode into a very funny comedy.

How would you like to have a pet ghost? A nice, tame one that would be easy to take care of, sleep in your closet, do your work, or frighten people out of their wits—whichever you prefer? It sounds like it is strange, but it is amusing. When Phineas Farthingale comes to visit his niece, Helen, he brings with him the fun-loving, temperamental ghost of an Inca chief. The ghost is never really seen, but what he does makes him one of the most real characters of the play. When Phineas arrives, Helen is having trouble convincing her mother that Tommy Tucker is the one boy for her. So when Phineas, Aunt Polly, Helen's go-getter aunt, and the ghost all start to help her, it's hard to imagine just how much fun will develop.

HOMECOMING

Friday, October 13, proved to be an unlucky night for the 1967 Delphos Jefferson Homecoming. As the evening approached, the rains came down and the girls remained in their automobiles, driven by Joe Neiford, Homer Nihiser, and Bruce Clevenger, at the east end of the field during the game. They were driven back to the school for the crowning of the Queen and the Semi-Formal Dance. At that time, Jane Freund was crowned Queen by her escort Bill Merschman. She was preceded into the music room by her court, Pam Hallard ecorted by Dave Long, and Sue Burrey, escorted by Cary Prine. The room was decorated with the theme, "Road to Victory," in red and white colors. The Queen and her court were presented beautiful sprays of red roses and carnations. In spite of the weather, the evening was an occasion to remember.

Jane Freund and D-Club President Bill Merschman.

Queen Jane Freund and escort, Bill Merschman, open the Homecoming Dance to the tune of "Love is Blue."

Y-TEEN DANCE

"Crystal Ball" was the theme of the annual Y-Teen Dance, held on December 9, 1967. As the young ladies and their escorts walked through the doors of the music room, they entered a dream world which was filled with silhouettes of dancers, stars, horses and carriage, and champagne glasses. The "Blue Notes" provided the music to finish setting off the mood.

"T.V. Stars of 68" was the title of the show put on at intermission by the Seniors. They showed-off their talents by singing and putting on skits. Funny awards were given to some of the deserving Seniors.

All proved to be a fun-filled evening for everyone.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

"Summer Place", something all students are dreaming about, was the theme of the 1968 Junior-Senior prom. Excitement filled the air as everyone danced to the music of "The Ohio Power." The color scheme was done in moss green and leaf green, and the gym was decorated with scenes from oceans and sea-shores. The juniors spent many hours preparing for what they considered the greatest prom ever.

The faculty enjoy the prom as much as the juniors and seniors.

SERVICE PAGE

These students volunteer part of their free time to help their school. The girls type up absentee lists which are distributed to the teachers in the morning and afternoon. The boys set the stage for the assemblies, help the janitors keep the school clean, and they take care of the towels for gym classes. All these people are rendering a great service for the goodwill of their school.

The first activity of the year was the initiation of the freshmen. Next came planning and decorating for the Homecoming Dance.

To earn points for their G.A.A. letter, the girls sold popcorn at games and took part in intramural games of basketball, volleyball, and baseball at noon. Also this year, those who were interested could participate in bowling one night a week to earn points.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Delphos Jefferson Chapter of the Science Club was reconstructed this year with a membership of twenty-five students. The club's aim is to expand the scientific interests of the American Youth. To cover the clubs functional expenditures membership dues were established by the officers. A science fair and several field excursions have been planned for the future. Also, other plans have been formulated for 68-69 school year.
